

SENATORS NOW TALK OF ADJOURNMENT

Have Been Assured That House Will Be Ready to Quit in June.

SEVERAL LONG DEBATE ARE NOW IN SIGHT

Railroad Rate Question Will Not Come Up for Several Weeks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Senate will begin the week with the consideration of the question of the relations between this country and San Domingo. The subject will be brought up on Senator Tillman's resolution calling upon the President for information relative to the status of affairs since the flight of Morales, and if the Senate does not take up that resolution Mr. Rayner will address the Senate on the general Dominican question. It is Senator Tillman's intention to press his resolution and unless it is accepted by the Senate he probably will talk on it, if not tomorrow, then on some day during the week.

Considerable Debate Expected. With the subject once opened up considerable debate may be expected, for the Republican Senators are prepared to defend the attitude of the President in the Dominican matter. It is not expected that the treaty with Morales will be presented for some time, but Republican Senators say they have no intention of letting it go by default.

President Is Anxious. The President, it is pointed out, is anxious for action and prefers rejection of his intention to call up the Senate to the course of events in the present revolution, when the financial affairs of the country are less disturbed than in previous uprisings, as sustaining the President's attitude toward the little Republic. On the other hand, the revolution has had a tendency to solidify the Democratic Senators against the agreement, and if they hold together they will be able to defeat ratification.

To Call Up Supply Bill. Senator Gallinger, chairman of the Merchant Marine committee, has given notice of his intention to call up the commission's shipping bill tomorrow, and if he does so, that measure, being the unfinished business, will supplant the Dominican question. If, through courtesy, however, he should give way to Senators to discuss other questions, he will bring up the shipping bill later. When the commission's bill is taken up, Mr. Gallinger will open the debate on that measure. He will be followed, later by Senator Lodge in support and by Senator Mallory in opposition to the bill. The measure probably will be before the Senate for some time. Senator Gallinger will urge a vote as soon as possible.

As to Isle of Pines. It is expected that the treaty with Cuba relative to the Isle of Pines will be discussed during the week. This treaty is in the hands of Senator Forsaker and he will make an effort to secure action at the first practical moment. The treaty will not be ratified without opposition. Several Senators have expressed themselves as of opinion that the Americans on the Isle of Pines acquired some rights as such under promises made them by representatives of their Government. As many Pennsylvania people are on the Island, Senator Penrose has announced his intention of siding them in maintaining their status. There is no expectation of being able to take up the railroad rate question for the consideration of that subject will not be unduly postponed. They are already adjournment of the session and a conference on that subject with Speaker Cannon has been held. The Speaker is able to get all the appropriation bills through the House by the first of June, that month will be possible for the Senate managers express confidence that the adjournment of the session will be on time, and it is not their intention to put off other subjects to hold them in session late in the summer.

Emergency Appropriation Bill. The emergency appropriation bill, which the Senate expects to receive from the House toward the end of this week, will carry a much larger amount than usual. Ordinarily only the pressing deficiencies are provided for in this bill, others being left for the general deficiency bill, the last important measure of the session. It has been found, however, that this plan often leads to delay, and the present policy is to get the important items on the early bill, leaving the new and small deficiencies to be taken care of on the later bill.

House Forecast. After contemplating a plan to displace the Philippine tariff bill with the Statehood measure in the House this week the leaders arrived at the conclusion that the adjournment Saturday that the President order of business should not be disturbed, and that question discussed to occupy at least the first half of the week on the revenue measure will be unduly postponed. Mr. Payne at Valhalla, the bill, estimates that the discussion of this subject next week will occupy the first three or four days of the session.

Statehood Bill. After the Philippine bill has been disposed of the Statehood bill which the committee on Territories has still in mind, and that question discussed immediately and that question discussed and acted upon without interruption. No appropriation measure will be taken up until the Statehood bill has been disposed of, but the regular supply measures are expected to come in with regularity thereafter.

DIED AT 135 YEARS. Negress Passes Away After Living to Remarkable Age. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Mary McDonald, a negress, who claimed to be 135 years old, died at the home for aged and infirm colored persons in this city. According to Mrs. McDonald and her surviving relatives, she was born November 1, 1770, in a settlement known as Frogtown, near Valley Forge, Pa. She often told of the scenes in and about the camp of Washington's soldiers at Valley Forge during the winter of 1777-78. Mrs. McDonald was of robust physique and was an inveterate smoker up to a short time ago.

WHY NOT MAKE ALL PAY POSTAGE?

Move to Compel Departments, Senators and Representatives to Use Stamps.

OF COURSE THERE ARE OBJECTIONS TO SCHEME

Third of a Century Ago All Departmental Mail Required Postage Stamps.

Special to The Tribune. WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The recommendation of Third Assistant Postmaster-General Madden, that the franking privilege be abolished and that Senators, Representatives and departmental officials be required to use postage stamps on all classes of mail—made for the purchase of stamps to be appropriated by Congress—is being given very careful consideration by Senators and Representatives.

Various Objections Made. Various objections to the recommendation of Mr. Madden have been raised, chief among which is the difficulty that would be experienced in adjusting appropriations so as to meet the official needs of the government. Uniform allowances would be necessary, of course, and what would be done for one member would not be a drop in the bucket for another.

Might Overcome Difficulty. An old stamp collector suggests that this difficulty might be overcome by issuing the distinctive series of postage stamps, one for Senators and Representatives and the other for the use of the official mail. The proposal of the stamp collector is believed to possess considerable merit and will be given attention.

Departments Paid Postage. A third of a century ago, from 1873 to 1879, to be exact, all departmental mail required postage stamps, although mail sent by Congressmen and Senators was franked by the signing of the name, as at present. Each of the departments, however, had its own distinctive postage stamps, which were supplied without cost, except for manufacture.

Postoffice Department Stamp. These stamps were printed from the same plates as the current postage stamps, except that they were issued by the Postoffice Department, and the latter being labeled with the denomination in large figures printed in an oval, with an appropriate border and the inscription: "Postoffice Department, Official Stamp, U. S."

Colors for Different Bureaus. The stamps for the Department of Agriculture were all printed in green color, a rich emerald-green, and were of the denominations of 1, 2, 3, 5, 10, 15, 20 and 30 cents. The stamps for the Department of Justice were of the denominations of 1, 2, 3, 5, 10 and 20 cents. The stamps for the Department of the Interior, but printed in royal purple, and the Postoffice department stamps were in black.

Seven-Cent Stamp. A 7-cent stamp was added to the Navy, War and Treasury for foreign postage, the rate at that time being 7 cents. Instead of 5 cents as at present. The Navy was printed in a brilliant ultra-marine. The War in rose and the Treasury in blue. The stamps of the Department of State were of a dark green color and, in addition to the 7-cent, there were also denominations of 10, 15, 20 and 30 cents. The four last-named stamps were twice as large as those of any other department and bore the likeness of William H. Seward. The department stamp is the stamp of highest denomination for postal use ever issued by the United States.

Collections Come High. Some of these department stamps are extremely cheap and others are very expensive. A complete set of the Interior department may be obtained, in unused condition, for $5, or but a small advance over the face value. A similar set of the State department stamps and the Justice department about $60. One of the rarest of United States stamps is the 25-cent department stamp. It was naturally supposed that the $20 would be more valuable, but the 25-cent stamp is at $100, while the $20 is at $20. For some reason a large number of sheets of the 25-cent denomination were printed than of the $20 and $10.

Corned the Market. An interesting story is told of how a collector cornered the market on 30-cent Justice stamps. This collector discovered that only a comparatively small number of the 30-cent denomination was ever printed, and figured that some day it would command a high price. Accordingly, he set about buying at auction and at private sale every copy of this stamp that was offered for sale. At that time the current price for the 30-cent Justice was about 10 cents. The collector bought the stamps at that price, and when the time came to sell them he sold them at 100 cents each. The price advanced, and yet the stranger got every copy offered. Then, after this party had gathered in many copies of the stamp, dealers and collectors had awakened to the fact that he proposed to take all offerings regardless of price, there was a tremendous scramble for the 30-cent Justice, and the price advanced to 150 cents. The collector mentions "30-cent Justice" the collector thinks of peaches and cream.

Henderson won much local fame a few years ago by erecting monuments in Kansas to perpetuate in the minds of Kansas citizens historical events of the State. In 1902 Henderson erected a costly monument at Logan Grove in memory of Coronado's expedition to Kansas. He was also interested in the erection of monuments at Herington, Alma and Manhattan in perpetuation of events that took place about the time of the coming of the Spaniards to Kansas.

Armed Guards Appear in Row Between Western and Southern Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—Armed guards, injunction proceedings and a condemnation suit have been introduced into the controversy between the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific railways over the plan of the Western Pacific to place its terminus on the Oakland side of San Francisco bay between the Southern Pacific's broad gauge and narrow gauge moles.

Western Pacific Has Possession. The Western Pacific has laid a mile of preliminary track on a strip of reclaimed land, the title to which is a matter of controversy between the State and the Southern Pacific. This unexpected move gave the Western Pacific possession of the fill.

Appeal to the Courts. The Western Pacific next went into the Superior court of Alameda county and asked to have condemned a strip of land for the purpose of the Western Pacific. The Southern Pacific followed this by obtaining a temporary injunction restraining the Western Pacific from further track-laying operations.

Armed Guards Protect Tracks. A hearing of all the suits was set for January 12. Pending the hearing the Western Pacific has placed armed guards on the strip of filled land to protect its temporary tracks.
